

The Harbor Gazette

L1 The harbor committee met on Tuesday and approved a new dredging schedule.

R1 A lecture on coastal navigation begins at the town hall.

L2 The schedule divides the season into three working windows of ten days each.

R2 The speaker will review the charts that a spring tide can bring.

L3 Mooring lines at the east quay will be replaced before the autumn gales.

R3 Questions from the public are welcome, and the speaker will answer them.

L4 The committee asked the surveyors to mark the outer bar with new buoys.

R4 Refreshments are provided by the harbor guild.

The Gazette welcomes letters on harbor matters before noon on Fridays.

The Harbor Gazette

L1 The harbor committee met on Tuesday and approved a new dredging schedule.

R1 A lecture on coastal navigation begins at the town hall.

L2 The schedule divides the season into three working windows of ten days each.

R2 The speaker will review the charts that a spring tide can bring.

L3 Mooring lines at the east quay will be replaced before the autumn gales.

R3 Questions from the public are welcome, and the speaker will answer them.

L4 The committee asked the surveyors to mark the outer bar with new buoys.

R4 Refreshments are provided by the harbor guild.

The Gazette welcomes letters on harbor matters before noon on Fridays.

The Harbor Gazette

L1 The harbor committee met on Tuesday and approved a new dredging schedule.

R1 A lecture on coastal navigation begins at the town hall.

L2 The schedule divides the season into three working windows of ten days each.

R2 The speaker will review the charts that a spring tide can bring.

L3 Mooring lines at the east quay will be replaced before the autumn gales.

R3 Questions from the public are welcome, and the speaker will answer them.

L4 The committee asked the surveyors to mark the outer bar with new buoys.

R4 Refreshments are provided by the harbor guild.

The Gazette welcomes letters on harbor matters before noon on Fridays.